Purpose

Effective February 20, 2011, the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) issued new requirements for employers sponsoring foreign nationals through the I-129 Petition for a Nonimmigrant Worker process. Specifically, the revised I-129 form added Part 6 "Certification Regarding the Release of Controlled Technology or Technical Data to Foreign Persons in the United States".

This new required attestation stems from the "deemed export" rule under the U.S. government's Export Administration Regulations (EAR) and the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR), which provides that the transfer, release, or disclosure of controlled technical data, technology or software to a citizen or national of a foreign country, even if in the United States, is deemed to be an export to that country. Inclusion of the modified Part 6 of the I-129 application is the first time export control disclosures have been an explicit part of the immigration application process as directed by USCIS.

It is the responsibility of the Supervisor to monitor changes in job descriptions, responsibilities and/or departmental procedures that may put a foreign national at risk of exposure to controlled or restricted items. Such changes may require a review by the Director, Export Control Compliance to ensure adherence to U.S. export control laws and regulations. Any changes should not impact the status of the individual's visa, unless a license is required and cannot be obtained. No controlled / restricted items may be released to any foreign national until a review is completed by the Director and, if required, a license by the governing agency is received. If, at any point, the Supervisor or hiring department is unsure how to complete the form or has questions about items or projects that may be considered controlled or restricted, the Supervisor or hiring department should contact the Director, Export Control Compliance for guidance.

This standard operating procedures (SOP) document outlines the procedures that the ORA Export Control Compliance office will follow to review the I-129 attestation form for application of H-1B, H-1B1 Chile/Singapore, O-1A, and L-1 visa types.
