

May 1, 2019

A MESSAGE FROM NIH OFFICE OF EXTRAMURAL RESEARCH

eRA Alert: Hold off on Submitting RPPRs with Publications For Now eRA has received reports that users are unable to save publications for Research Performance Progress Reports (RPPRs). We are currently working with the National Library of Medicine (NLM) to identify and resolve the issue. We will send an update when more information is available.

In the meantime, we recommend you do not submit any RPPRs that include publications until the issue is resolved.

We are sorry for any inconvenience this may cause.

Joe Schumaker
eRA Communications
Division of Communications and Outreach
NIH Office of Extramural Research

Read the official announcement from NIH.

For questions or guidance, please contact your ORA Pre-Award Contact Person.

For additional information, please visit the ORA website at www.ora.miami.edu.

If you have any questions, please email us at ora-si@miami.edu.