August 30, 2019

In accordance with the advisory from the University Communications the Office of Research Administration will close at 12:00 p.m.

- The University of Miami takes a proactive approach to planning for tropical storms and hurricanes.
- The University Emergency Call Center has been activated to provide ongoing information to the University community. The hotline number is 800-227-0354.
- The University community is urged to monitor the University’s Emergency Management social media accounts at www.facebook.com/UMiamiENN and www.twitter.com/UMiamiENN for any updates.
- Additional information on hurricane preparedness can be found on the University's Hurricane Preparedness website.

The Office of Research Administration will return as soon as the University of Miami gives an all clear.
